

THE MEET TO FIGHT.

The Latest Phase of the Salary Rule Dispute.

PLAYERS WANT A CHANGE.

Manager Showalter Says Some Nice Things About Beam.

SUNDAY ASSOCIATION GAMES.

McClelland Puts Up a Forfeit to Run Ed Nikirk.

GENERAL SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

Game Played Yesterday.

WON'T GO TO CANADA.

Cashier George Jessup, of the Defunct Scranton City Bank,

DECLARES HE'LL NOT RUN AWAY.

His Shortage May Be Made Good by Some of His Wealthy Relations.

THE DIRECTORS DON'T REGRET ACTING.

Some Peculiar Circumstances Preceding the Collapse of the Bank.

Despite Cashier Jessup's statement that the charges that he had embezzled funds of the Scranton City Bank and caused it to fail were utterly untrue and that he stands ready to make good all losses traced to him, the directors declare that his acts just before arrest indicated that they were justified in their action. Mr. Jessup's relatives are expected to see that his shortage, when determined, will be made good.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. CANTON, May 26.—The principal topic of conversation on the streets in this city today is the sensational elopement (if elopement it can be called) of a young lady immediately after her marriage with her former lover. This afternoon, about 5 o'clock, J. S. Brown, a young man from this city, and Miss Mary Jane, a young lady residing in the country near this city, called at the office of the County Recorder for a marriage license, after which they went to the office of the Probate Judge, by whom they were married. A few minutes after they left the Recorder's office, a young farmer named Ullmer entered in a very excited manner and asked for them, and after commanding the Recorder not to record the marriage license just issued, rushed out. The newly married couple had been to a dry goods store, and there the wife was left while her husband stepped out a few moments to attend to some business. During his absence, and informing the young wife that her mother was waiting outside, seized her by the arm and hurried her out to the street. The couple went several blocks, and then, after a short search, they were stopped by a man in a tuxedo of authority by her companion and led hurriedly along. They finally entered a grocery, and some earnest conversation took place. Ullmer, being standing near and drove rapidly away.

In the meantime the husband returned to the dry goods store, and, supposing that she had returned to her home in company with Ullmer, he started there shortly after dark, vowing vengeance. He returned to the city this morning, being unsuccessful in finding the runaway couple. What course he will next pursue he does not know.

It is said that the bride and groom, who were engaged to be married before he went to Idaho, but during his absence she became engaged to Ullmer, and they were to have been married next Monday. The Idaho lover suddenly put in an appearance, and a wedding with its sensational discomfiture was the result. The parties are all well known and reputable people.

HE DID NOT GET HIS SALARY.

A Peculiar Suit Entered Against a Governor and Prominent Politician.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. COLUMBIA, S. C., May 26.—To-morrow morning Mr. Gibbs Gardner, through his attorneys, Messrs. Verner, Bonham & Rucker, will enter suit against Oliver Ames, Governor of Massachusetts, and formerly a Greenback candidate for Governor in this State, and J. P. Clayton, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State, to recover $100,000, plus interest, and to be paid for editorial services on the Columbia Evening Record.

Six months ago the Evening Record, at that time a Democratic paper, was purchased by unknown parties, and since that time it has been edited by Mr. Gibbs Gardner. It was known that Mr. Ames had been collecting money in this State to start a Republican paper. Mr. Gardner claims that he was engaged to edit the Record and promised a salary of $100,000 per annum. The paper has not received the stock and for 36 weeks has not been paid his salary. When he entered the service of the paper he was told that the stock had been sold to the State of Massachusetts and that the State Department would be the principal shareholder.

There are other prominent Massachusetts people named in the stockholders' suit which will create considerable interest here.

A SENSATION EXPECTED.

Interesting Revelations Looked for in the Female Fugitive Case.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, May 26.—The case of the two women who have been passing forged checks on Lord & Taylor and other well-known houses promises to excite much interest when it comes up in the Jefferson Market Police Court Monday morning, inasmuch as there is more back to it than the police are willing to admit.

"The housekeeper said," "Dolly Verdon I knew to be connected with people in this city who were wealthy and had money."

The gentlemen who comprise the Board of Directors of the defunct bank represent the stockholders generally. They believe that the losses to depositors will be made good by the assets of the bank. Mr. Warren, attorney for Jessup, admits that the latter used the funds of the bank to support his private enterprises. In an interview he said: "Mr. Jessup used the funds of the bank only as he came through legitimate channels. He drew them regularly, and the stockholders generally believe that the losses to depositors will be made good by the assets of the bank. It may be that he didn't put up collateral as he should, but there is ample security for all the shortage right here in Scranton. I don't believe he fled to Canada, like other cashiers we read of."

BUILDING A FINE HOUSE.

A few weeks ago Mr. Jessup let the contract for the handsome new residence to be built at the corner of Quincey avenue and Mulberry street, and the foundation walls of the new building have already been laid.

A director told THE DISPATCH correspondent this evening that the amount of cash on hand at the time of the collapse was $100,000. The rumors that Dr. Jessup, who is rated as worth $300,000, was on Jessup's bond to the bank, was authoritatively denied this evening by that gentleman. The only bondsmen are Jessup's brother, Judge William E. Jessup, and his father-in-law, Albert Beardsley, of Susquehanna county. These bonds are considered sufficient and unimpaired by leading business men who have had business with the bank.

Among those who suffer largely by the failure is the firm of J. S. Kramer & Co., leading clothiers here. Mr. Kramer has lost $3,316, to be used in a business transaction the coming week.

SOME SUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES.

When the auditing committee of the Board of Directors agreed to meet on the 14th instant, to review the books of the bank, Mr. Jessup requested a postponement until last Tuesday evening, saying he had important business interests to look after in New York on that day.

On Tuesday evening, Jessup failed to put in an appearance, and then the committee took it upon themselves to go over the books, with the result already known.

Owing to Jessup's connections, he being a brother of Judge Jessup, of this city, and a brother-in-law of ex-Justice Hand, of the Supreme Court of this State, who is now in Europe, there is a probability that his delinquencies may be made good and that the bank may resume business. If it does resume business, the directors will be justified in their action. Mr. Jessup said to-day it would be as a national bank.

Pure Whiskies.

XXX 1855, Pure Rye Whisky, full 40 quarts, $3.00.

Monogram Pure Rye Whisky, full 40 quarts, $1.75.

Extra Old Cabinet, Pure Rye Whisky, full 40 quarts, $1.50.

1875 Export, Pure Rye Whisky, full 40 quarts, $1.25.

1880 Export, Pure Rye Whisky, full 40 quarts, $1.00.

For sale at G. W. Schmidt's, 95 and 97 Fifth ave., city.

BLACK CASHMERE—Our five grades of 46-inch wide cashmere at 50c, 60c, 75c, 85c and $1 a yard, are unequalled for value.

HUGUS & HACKE.

MW52.

A STOLEN BRIDE.

A Jilted Lover Either Steals Her or Persuades Her to Elope—Five Minutes After Her Marriage—The Forgiven Husband's Valu Search.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. CANTON, May 26.—The principal topic of conversation on the streets in this city today is the sensational elopement (if elopement it can be called) of a young lady immediately after her marriage with her former lover. This afternoon, about 5 o'clock, J. S. Brown, a young man from this city, and Miss Mary Jane, a young lady residing in the country near this city, called at the office of the County Recorder for a marriage license, after which they went to the office of the Probate Judge, by whom they were married. A few minutes after they left the Recorder's office, a young farmer named Ullmer entered in a very excited manner and asked for them, and after commanding the Recorder not to record the marriage license just issued, rushed out. The newly married couple had been to a dry goods store, and there the wife was left while her husband stepped out a few moments to attend to some business. During his absence, and informing the young wife that her mother was waiting outside, seized her by the arm and hurried her out to the street. The couple went several blocks, and then, after a short search, they were stopped by a man in a tuxedo of authority by her companion and led hurriedly along. They finally entered a grocery, and some earnest conversation took place. Ullmer, being standing near and drove rapidly away.

In the meantime the husband returned to the dry goods store, and, supposing that she had returned to her home in company with Ullmer, he started there shortly after dark, vowing vengeance. He returned to the city this morning, being unsuccessful in finding the runaway couple. What course he will next pursue he does not know.

It is said that the bride and groom, who were engaged to be married before he went to Idaho, but during his absence she became engaged to Ullmer, and they were to have been married next Monday. The Idaho lover suddenly put in an appearance, and a wedding with its sensational discomfiture was the result. The parties are all well known and reputable people.

HE DID NOT GET HIS SALARY.

A Peculiar Suit Entered Against a Governor and Prominent Politician.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. COLUMBIA, S. C., May 26.—To-morrow morning Mr. Gibbs Gardner, through his attorneys, Messrs. Verner, Bonham & Rucker, will enter suit against Oliver Ames, Governor of Massachusetts, and formerly a Greenback candidate for Governor in this State, and J. P. Clayton, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the State, to recover $100,000, plus interest, and to be paid for editorial services on the Columbia Evening Record.

Six months ago the Evening Record, at that time a Democratic paper, was purchased by unknown parties, and since that time it has been edited by Mr. Gibbs Gardner. It was known that Mr. Ames had been collecting money in this State to start a Republican paper. Mr. Gardner claims that he was engaged to edit the Record and promised a salary of $100,000 per annum. The paper has not received the stock and for 36 weeks has not been paid his salary. When he entered the service of the paper he was told that the stock had been sold to the State of Massachusetts and that the State Department would be the principal shareholder.

There are other prominent Massachusetts people named in the stockholders' suit which will create considerable interest here.

A SENSATION EXPECTED.

Interesting Revelations Looked for in the Female Fugitive Case.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, May 26.—The case of the two women who have been passing forged checks on Lord & Taylor and other well-known houses promises to excite much interest when it comes up in the Jefferson Market Police Court Monday morning, inasmuch as there is more back to it than the police are willing to admit.

"The housekeeper said," "Dolly Verdon I knew to be connected with people in this city who were wealthy and had money."

The gentlemen who comprise the Board of Directors of the defunct bank represent the stockholders generally. They believe that the losses to depositors will be made good by the assets of the bank. Mr. Warren, attorney for Jessup, admits that the latter used the funds of the bank to support his private enterprises. In an interview he said: "Mr. Jessup used the funds of the bank only as he came through legitimate channels. He drew them regularly, and the stockholders generally believe that the losses to depositors will be made good by the assets of the bank. It may be that he didn't put up collateral as he should, but there is ample security for all the shortage right here in Scranton. I don't believe he fled to Canada, like other cashiers we read of."

BUILDING A FINE HOUSE.

A few weeks ago Mr. Jessup let the contract for the handsome new residence to be built at the corner of Quincey avenue and Mulberry street, and the foundation walls of the new building have already been laid.

A director told THE DISPATCH correspondent this evening that the amount of cash on hand at the time of the collapse was $100,000. The rumors that Dr. Jessup, who is rated as worth $300,000, was on Jessup's bond to the bank, was authoritatively denied this evening by that gentleman. The only bondsmen are Jessup's brother, Judge William E. Jessup, and his father-in-law, Albert Beardsley, of Susquehanna county. These bonds are considered sufficient and unimpaired by leading business men who have had business with the bank.

Among those who suffer largely by the failure is the firm of J. S. Kramer & Co., leading clothiers here. Mr. Kramer has lost $3,316, to be used in a business transaction the coming week.

SOME SUSPICIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES.

When the auditing committee of the Board of Directors agreed to meet on the 14th instant, to review the books of the bank, Mr. Jessup requested a postponement until last Tuesday evening, saying he had important business interests to look after in New York on that day.

On Tuesday evening, Jessup failed to put in an appearance, and then the committee took it upon themselves to go over the books, with the result already known.

Owing to Jessup's connections, he being a brother of Judge Jessup, of this city, and a brother-in-law of ex-Justice Hand, of the Supreme Court of this State, who is now in Europe, there is a probability that his delinquencies may be made good and that the bank may resume business. If it does resume business, the directors will be justified in their action. Mr. Jessup said to-day it would be as a national bank.

Pure Whiskies.

XXX 1855, Pure Rye Whisky, full 40 quarts, $3.00.

Monogram Pure Rye Whisky, full 40 quarts, $1.75.

Extra Old Cabinet, Pure Rye Whisky, full 40 quarts, $1.50.

1875 Export, Pure Rye Whisky, full 40 quarts, $1.25.

1880 Export, Pure Rye Whisky, full 40 quarts, $1.00.

For sale at G. W. Schmidt's, 95 and 97 Fifth ave., city.

BLACK CASHMERE—Our five grades of 46-inch wide cashmere at 50c, 60c, 75c, 85c and $1 a yard, are unequalled for value.

HUGUS & HACKE.

MW52.

OUR HAYTIAN POLICY.

Is Formulated by Secretary of State Blaine, and He Decides TO SEND TWO COMMISSIONERS.

With Secret Instructions to Confer With Hippolyte.

THE BOGUS FRENCH TREATY EXPLODED.

An Effort to Secure the Mole St. Nicholas for a Coaling Station.

ONE OF THE SUSPECTS.

News Reaches Philadelphia of the Arrest of Patrick McGeehan.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. PHILADELPHIA, May 26.—Luke Dillon, of the Philadelphia City-News, who was in the city on Monday, has been arrested by the police on suspicion of being a participant in the Cronin murder. A dispatch received from Mr. Dillon on Saturday night said that McGeehan was preparing to leave Chicago on Monday, and that he had been arrested by the police on suspicion of being a participant in the Cronin murder. A dispatch received from Mr. Dillon on Saturday night said that McGeehan was preparing to leave Chicago on Monday, and that he had been arrested by the police on suspicion of being a participant in the Cronin murder.

General Lew Wallace and Nathaniel H. Tucker have been selected as United States Commissioners to Hayti. They will confer with Hippolyte and endeavor to secure peace and a few locations suitable for coaling stations. Beyond their instructions are secret.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 26.—The State Department Commissioners selected to visit Hayti will also probably be instructed to visit Santo Domingo. As near as can be ascertained from those conversant with our diplomatic policy the object is to ultimately obtain coaling or naval stations at Mole St. Nicholas and Samana Bay, and the commission will seek to obtain such assurances as will make it possible for the administration to establish coaling stations with the necessary territory for their protection at those two points.

The State Department has all the means necessary not only to defray the expenses of the commission, but to negotiate for future privileges of an important commercial nature.

The greatest caution has been exercised at the State Department to keep the purpose and movements of the commission secret.

The commission to Hayti has at last been definitely agreed upon. It was at first intended that it should consist of three members, but a refusal of Congressman Robert H. H. of Illinois, to serve reduced the number to two.

The other gentlemen who have signified their willingness to go are General Lew Wallace, of Indiana, and Nathaniel H. Tucker, of Virginia. The political balance of the commission is thus maintained, inasmuch as General Wallace is a Republican and Mr. Tucker an ex-Confederate Democrat.

SECRET INSTRUCTIONS.

Secretary Blaine is desirous of all things that none of the great European powers should become acquainted with the nature of the instructions, lest the intentions of the American Commission be anticipated and the possible results of their mission neutralized. A publication of the details of the instructions would be followed by the English, German and French foreign offices, as these three Governments especially would be vitally interested in every move which this country might make in the premises.

At the Haytian Legation surprise is naturally expressed at the action of the State Department in sending a commission to Hayti. The beach at Mole St. Nicholas has been in office two weeks when it was determined to send representatives of our Government to Hayti independent of ordinary diplomatic service, and it is remembered that the alleged treaty between the Haytian Minister in Paris and the representative of France was dated March 7. It was not until early in the present month that the State Department took official notice of the existence of such a treaty.

Although upon the face of it, it was manifestly an attempt to create a diplomatic unskilled in diplomatic usages, especially those of the French Government, yet nevertheless certain communications on file in the State Department have been made in calling the attention of the French and Haytian Ministers to the existence of the alleged treaty. The agent of Hippolyte, who is in the present month in the State Department that Legitime had promised to the French Minister at Port au Prince the Mole St. Nicholas.

IN THE REFERRED TO A SITE FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A COAL DEPOT WAS TO BE CEDED TO THE FRENCH REPUBLIC. The Haytian Minister assured Secretary Blaine that it was not in the power of Legitime or any other person to cede the Mole St. Nicholas, which is a native territory to any power. The French Government, through its Minister, was equally emphatic in declaring that it was not in the power of Legitime or any other person to cede the Mole St. Nicholas, which is a native territory to any power.

The French Government, through its Minister, was equally emphatic in declaring that it was not in the power of Legitime or any other person to cede the Mole St. Nicholas, which is a native territory to any power.

Experiments are to be carried out on this subject in the United States. The State Department has a novel mode of studying timber, which has been introduced by Mr. R. B. Hough, of Lowell, New York. He has secured a large tract of land in the State of New York, and has planted there three thin slices of wood, each two inches wide by five inches long and from one-eighth to one-fourth of an inch thick. The slices are placed in the ground, and the effect of light coming through the thin slice is to show the structure and quality of the timber, even better than if one were looking at a mass of it.

HE DID NOT GET BACK.

Mrs. Harrison Represents Her Husband as a G. A. R. Memorial Service.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—A Grand Army memorial service was held in the Metropolitan Methodist Church, in this city. There was a large attendance, including Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. McKee. It was expected the President would attend, but he went down the bay yesterday for a brief outing. The Rev. Dr. Vester preached the sermon.

Lack of Womanly Curiosity.

Atlanta Journal.

There is an old lady in Randolph county, who lives within seven miles of Cuthbert, above the average for intelligence, who has not been in her county town in 29 years, has never ridden in a stage, and has never seen a horse and cart, and though living within five miles of the Southern Railroad ever since it was built, yet never has seen a railroad. How is this for lack of womanly curiosity.

Still on Deck.

From the Boston Globe.

James G. Blaine—let's see—James G. Blaine, O. H. yes, used to be a famous Republican politician and a lively runner from East—lived a good while ago—contemporary of Clay and Webster and—what's that? Alive still, and a member of the present Cabinet? Come to think of it, that's so; but he isn't doing much at the business.

They Have a Chance to Learn.

From the Somerville Journal.

It has always been proverbial in public bodies that married men are invariably the best debaters. They may not have a chance to talk much at home, but they have untrampled opportunities to observe and learn.

HIS FOOT WAS AFIRE.

Remarkable Spontaneous Combustion of a Boy's Bandages.

LINSEED-COTTON POULTICE FIRE.

Sets a Bed Ablaze and Furnishes the Hardest Case on Record.

WHAT THE ATTENDING DOCTOR SAYS.

An incredible, at least a most remarkable, occurrence took place in Allegheny the other day. Charles Rasp, a boy aged about 15 years, who lives on Church alley, near Spring Garden avenue, was playing with some companions on the river bank, in front of the Allegheny Water Works. The escape pipe from the water works led down the steam at the point near where the boys were playing. Rasp stood near the edge of the bank where a load of sawdust had been dumped, and slipped down the bank in front of the escape pipe. He was frightfully scalded about the face, hands and feet.

His companions rushed him and he was taken to the office of the water works, where some women in the neighborhood dressed his wounds. They poulticed them with linseed oil and cotton, and the lad was taken to his home.

The dressing was only intended as temporary and Dr. R. J. McCready was called. He removed the bandages and re-dressed the burns, but was unable to take off a portion of the cotton that adhered to the heel of one of the boy's feet without removing some of the flesh. Some of the cotton that had been taken off was thrown into a crock filled with water and some was cast into a corner.

About midnight on Saturday the fire started from the room and found his foot on fire and the mattress ablaze. The cast off cotton in the corner was also on fire, and the cotton in the crock had burned to the water's edge, while that underneath was charred.

Dr. McCready in speaking of the circumstance last night said that without a doubt it was the most remarkable case of spontaneous combustion he had ever seen. He said that the fire in the foot was caused by the pieces of cotton and linseed oil that he had been unable to remove from the boy's foot, as the cotton was so adherent to his body at the time of the accident had ignited simultaneously.

The injured lad is recovering, and will soon be able to be out.

THE WEATHER.

For Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia, fair, followed by showers during the afternoon or evening, southerly winds, slightly warmer.

PRESENCE, May 26, 1889.

The United States Service office in this city furnishes the following:

Time. Temp. Wind. Rain. Bar. Humidity. Direction. Force. State.

5:30 A. M. 58.0 1.0 S. 1.0 30.0 60.0 S. 1.0

6:30 A. M. 59.0 1.0 S. 1.0 30.0 60.0 S. 1.0

7:30 A. M. 60.0 1.0 S. 1.0 30.0 60.0 S. 1.0

8:30 A. M. 61.0 1.0 S. 1.0 30.0 60.0 S. 1.0

9:30 A. M. 62.0 1.0 S. 1.0 30.0 60.0 S. 1.0

10:30 A. M. 63.0 1.0 S. 1.0 30.0 60.0 S. 1.0

11:30 A. M. 64.0 1.0 S. 1.0 30.0 60.0 S. 1.0

12:30 P. M. 65.0 1.0 S. 1.0 30.0 60.0 S. 1.0

1:30 P. M. 66.0 1.0 S. 1.0 30.0 60.0 S. 1.0

2:30 P. M. 67.0 1.0 S. 1.0 30.0 60.0 S. 1.0

3:30 P. M. 68.0 1.0 S. 1.0 30.0 60.0 S. 1.0

4:30 P. M. 69.0 1.0 S. 1.0 30.0 60.0 S. 1.0

5:30 P. M. 70.0 1.0 S. 1.0 30.0 60.0 S. 1.0

6:30 P. M. 71.0 1.0 S. 1.0 30.0 60.0 S. 1.0

7:30 P. M. 72.0 1.0 S. 1.0 30.0 60.0 S. 1.0

8:30 P. M. 73.0 1.0 S. 1.0 30.0 60.0 S. 1.0

9:30 P. M. 74.0 1.0 S. 1.0 30.0 60.0 S. 1.0

10:30 P. M. 75.0 1.0 S. 1.